WORK IN PROGRESS

- Criminal Power Vacuum: The Effect of Ecuador's Drug Lord's Murder on Violence [Current Version]
 - Expanding upon my master's thesis, I am improving the construction process of my novel dataset tracking criminal organization presence over time in Ecuador to investigate the impact of the murder of the leader of the largest Ecuadorian gang on violence rates, as well as school dropout rates.
- Affirmative Action and Heterogeneous Efforts, with Shubhangi Gupta [Project]
 - Using Brazil's Quotas Law, this project explores the heterogeneous effects of affirmative action on pre-college effort using DiD and Shift-Share IV approaches and administrative datasets.
- Organized Crime and Societal Dynamics: Evidence from Manaus, Brazil, with Paula Pereda [Current Version]
 - Using Synthetic control methodology, we analyze the effects of the crime group Família do Norte on labor market dynamics and educational attainment.
